z/OS Computer Upgrade Martin Luther King Day Weekend; Holiday Hours in Effect

CNS will be completing a major hardware upgrade of our z/OS (MVS) system during the weekend prior to Martin Luther King Day. Although no unscheduled outage is expected due to the nature of the installation, some computer services may not be available during this time.

CNS facilities will operate with limited services on Martin Luther King Day, Monday, January 19, 2004. "Limited services" means CNS computers will be operational, but tape mounting and output filing will be at the operator’s discretion. CIRCA administrative offices will be closed for the day, but some labs will remain open. See the hours posted on lab doors. Lab and administrative offices at the University of North Florida will be closed for the day.
