CNS Participates in Faculty Showcase

CNS took its show on the "road" on November 17 when the Faculty Showcase took place at the J. Wayne Reitz Union.

Sponsored by the Office of Academic Technology, the Showcase was intended as an opportunity for faculty, UF centers and offices, and leading information technology vendors to share innovative IT solutions for teaching, research and community service.

Opportunity to Shine

CNS and Telecom were represented with booths showing their diversity of services, including managing Internet, intranet, and telecom services. It seemed to be an education event. For example, many visitors to the event were surprised to discover that it is CNS servers that provide e-mail service for all of UF faculty, students, and staff as part of the GatorLink system.

Other departments at the Showcase included

* Center for Instructional Technology & Training (CITT) * Electronic Theses & Dissertations

In addition to the exhibition area, visitors were able to choose from a variety of keynote and breakout sessions. For a complete list, and more information about the Showcase, see http://www.at.ufl.edu/showcase2004.
