Introduction

UF students, faculty, and staff can now use their GatorLink accounts to publish their own Web pages. All GatorLink accounts have an allocation of disk space which may be used to store Web pages and graphics for distribution on the World Wide Web.

Access to your GatorLink Web space is via FTP only; therefore, you must create the pages on a PC (or Mac) and FTP them to your GatorLink Web space.

Before putting any Web page up for public view, it is important that you read the University of Florida's "Acceptable Use of University Computing Resources" Policy, available at http://www.it.ufl.edu/policies/aupolicy.html. Please note that the Policy says, "This policy applies to all users of university computing resources, whether affiliated with the university or not, and to all uses of those resources, whether on campus or from remote locations." It is your responsibility to ensure that any pages you publish are in compliance with University policy.

For complete details on how to use your GatorLink account to publish your Web pages, see http://plaza.ufl.edu.
